

Coach Scott Allen is proud to announce the first recruiting class for the reinstated men's golf team at Concordia College.

We have signed six students to institutional aid and they come from the United States and three foreign countries. We will be adding two walk-ons from the Concordia student body shortly.

Each student is a quality golfer with awesome individual accomplishments. They are all excellent students and even better young people. The team will be composed of four freshmen—who I envision as Concordia's version of the "Fab Four"—one junior college transfer, and one current student.

Their first tournament is September 16th at the College of St. Rose.
