Bronxville Artists: Legacies Past and Future

September 2–October 10, 2008

Tuesday, September 9:

Gallery Talk 7-8pm, Reception 8-9pm

Lecturer: Curator Jayne Warman

For William Van Duzer Lawrence, Bronxville's developer, artists were a critical component of the community he planned in Westchester at the turn of the 19th century. They were a vital force in the community, and their tradition continues with the many individual artists who currently call Bronxville their home. The work of contemporary artists will be shown with paintings by Otto Bacher, Bruce Crane, Will Hicok Low, Hobart Nichols, and others.

Music in the Gallery

Sunday, September 21, 4pm

The Vale of Kashmir: Photographs by John Isaac
February 2- April 8, 2009

John Isaac, UN photographer from 1969 to 1998, celebrates the people and landscape of Kashmir and the unique way of life that has developed there. In lush color, he captures details of daily life: canals on Dal Lake, the ancient city of Srinagar, harvesting of saffron, Hindu pilgrimages, shepherds on the Himalayan slopes, prayers at the mosque, and the private realm of family life.

Thursday, February 5, Gallery Talk 7-8pm, Reception and Book Signing 8-9pm

John Isaac will talk about his photos of Kashmir and sign his new book, The Vale of Kashmir, published by W. W. Norton, with an introduction by Art Davidson.

Art on Film

Figures in an Imaginary Landscape: A Show of Digital Painting

February 2- April 8, 2009

The show features paintings made with digital technology as well as painting in four dimensions with video. Using the personal computer as a tool for art-making, Fitzgerald brings beauty, humanism, and warmth to the usual cold of technological environment. Fitzgerald is Assistant Professor at Concordia College where she heads the New Media Area of Study.

Video Symposium

Thursday, February 26, 7-8:30pm

“Would Leonardo Have Used Photoshop?”

Kit Fitzgerald will discuss media, art, new technology, and the PC as a folk instrument.

Music in the Gallery: From India to Egypt: A Silk Road Journey

Sunday, March 29, 4pm

Yousif Sheronick, Concordia Conservatory Faculty, frame drums & Durbakeh
Steve Gorn, Bansuri flutes, clarinet

Music moves with caravans. A song, a rhythm, a musical instrument pass along the Silk Route between Asia and the Mediterranean. Yousif Sheronick and Steve Gorn enliven traditional melodies and rhythms with their distinctive voice of culture.
