

Concordia Math Team Tops Princeton

Concordia College-New York fielded three 3-person teams in last spring's International Contest in Mathematical Modeling. The team of Joyce Lo, Mona Tafti, and Sunit Khadge attained the Meritorious ranking—one level above Princeton and hundreds of colleges across the U.S. and China. Scoring Honorable Mention—the same level as Princeton—were the teams of Haram Kim, Pillwon Seo, and Shannon Keyes and Steve Hom, Sondra Noer, and Joshua Rys. This showing was one of the best college performances in the academic world. Concordia annually competes in the International Contest in Mathematical Modeling under the guidance of Professor John Loase.
